Negative Metagenetic Quality: Saurian

Bonus: 6 Karma

These individuals have a distinctively dinosaur-like appearance. The skull is narrow and pointed, and the mouth resembles a beak—though it is softer, more flexible, and capable of speech. Along the back of the head is a crest or a row of horns. The hands and feet are tipped with stubby claws rather than fingernails. Saurians are easily mistaken for drakes. Other people get a +2 dice pool bonus when making Memory tests to recall your appearance or remember if they have seen you before.

EXCEPTIONAL ATTRIBUTE (CHARISMA)

QUALITY

Exceptional (Attribute)

Whether it's being a powerhouse, taking a hit from a troll, holding your synthanol, ducking a fast right, holding that inside turn, selling coal in Newcastle, or making a cat look clumsy, you're just naturally built to be better.

- Cost: 12 Karma

- Game Effect: Select a Physical or Mental attribute. That attribute's maximum (but not current) rank increases by 1. This quality can only be purchased once per attribute.

- Cost: 12 Karma

- Game Effect: You gain a bonus Edge on all tests for balance, falling, and landing safely. Note the rules in the Preventing Edge Abuse section, p. 45.

INSPIRE COMPETENCE

QUALITY

Karma: 11

Quality Type: positive

Max Rating: 1

Source: companion

## Inspire Competence

You know how to motivate people to get the most out of their capabilities.

- Cost: 11 Karma

- Game Effect: For a Major Action, you may make an Influence (Leadership) + Charisma test to assist another character on a Teamwork test with any skill. Either you or the character that you assist (player choice) gains a point of Edge.

## Low-Light Vision

Thanks to an increase in the number of rod cells in your natural eyes, an implanted increase of said rod cells, or an augmentation that enhances the light level of incoming data, you are capable of operating in light levels that would leave others essentially blind.

- Cost: 6 Karma

FOCUSED CONCENTRATION

QUALITY

Focused Concentration (1 to 3)

You know how to compartmentalize your mind and keep hold of arcane and emergent manipulations without straining yourself.

- Cost: 12 Karma per level

- Game Effect: You can sustain multiple spells or complex forms without penalty. For each level, you can sustain 1 additional spell or complex form without suffering the associated penalty. The spell cannot have a modified Drain Value of 7 or greater.

CHRONIC PAIN

QUALITY

Karma: 15

Quality Type: negative

Max Rating: 1

Source: companion

## Chronic Pain

You frequently suffer from a condition that flares up sometimes, causing you pain.

- Bonus: 15 Karma

- Game Effect: At the beginning of each session (after your Edge refreshes), roll your Body plus Willpower with a threshold of 3 plus the number of sessions that you have not suffered from your chronic pain. If you fail the test, your pain flares up. Throughout the entire session, you suffer a –1 die penalty on all tests except for damage soak rolls. Drugs, spells, adept powers, and other effects that reduce wound penalties, including pain editors, have no effect on your chronic pain.

Hooder

You're driven to do what you can to help others.

- Bonus: 5 Karma/level (max level 3)

- Game Effect: You must donate at least 1,000 nuyen per level of this quality every month. The donation cannot go to other members

Someone wants you dead, and they have the means to get it done.

- Bonus: 5 Karma per level (max level 5)

- Game Effect: Whenever your personal Heat is 15 or higher, assassins catch up to you. You always seem to manage a narrow escape, but you never get away unscathed. At the beginning of every session (after your Edge pool refreshes), roll Body to resist 7P damage, with +1 DV per level of this quality. You may treat this wound using any available short-term healing (first aid, medkit, heal spell, etc.), but you may not take advantage of any long-term healing before the session begins.

ALLERGY (SPICES, COMMON MODERATE)

Increase Attribute

==> picture [228 x 20] intentionally omitted \<==

The touch of the mage strengthens, speeds, or enlightens the target, temporarily raising one of their attributes. The caster decides which attribute to target before casting the spell. The caster rolls a Sorcery + Magic (5 – Essence) test. They can select how many net hits they actually apply to the target to increase the selected attribute, at a rate of 1 point of increase per net hit (maximum bonus +4); for each net hit applied beyond the first, the Drain Value of the spell increases by 1. The spell cannot affect Edge, Essence, Magic, or Resonance.

Increase Reflexes

==> picture [228 x 20] intentionally omitted \<==

The reaction time and speed of the target increase, making them better able to anticipate and respond to others. The caster rolls a Sorcery + Magic (5 – Essence) test. They can select how many net hits they actually apply to the target to increase both their Reaction score and the number of Initiative Dice, at a rate of 1 point of increase and 1 Initiative Die per net hit; for each net hit applied beyond the first, the Drain Value of the spell increases by 1.

## Channeling

Ah, channeling. This metamagic has gotten me out of some serious clusterfrags over the years, to the point I owe my life many times over to the koradji who taught me the technique back in '62.

## Beretta T-series

The preferred sidearm of many security forces around the world, the T-series is classified as a light pistol, even though the 201 design offers automatic fire capability, making it popular in nations that limit heavy and machine pistols. Since the frame is the same, it's easier to disguise as a 101. The 201 also comes with a detachable shoulder stock, though it is often lost before the gun reaches the street market.

## Yamaha Raiden

While Ares made the Alpha, the Japanacorps, through Yamaha, developed the Raiden. Electronic firing and exceptional accuracy are integral to the design. Japanacorp security forces and the Japanese Imperial Marines now swear by the Raiden. It features an integral silencer, smartgun system, and underbarrel shotgun/grenade launcher.
